“Producers” at Music Hall

In the world of entertainment, Producers make the event happen. They organize the talent, raise the funds, and oversee the project from beginning to end.

Music Hall Producers are a special group of donors whose generosity support the goals of providing a stage for cultural growth of the community.

“Art is the soul of humanity. The performing arts discover, preserve and present the human expression of that soul. Music Hall is the unique and perfect venue for the celebration of who we are and who we can become.”

~ Leland Bassett- General Co-Chair

For Music Hall, they are the largest and most generous individual contributor group. Helping to put up great shows season after season is one part of being a Music Hall Producer, but there is another tradition at which this group excels – enjoying complimentary show tickets, and celebrating opening night parties! Producers meet some of the most talented performers in the world. To be a Music Hall Producer is not only rewarding; it’s incredibly fun!

We invite you to join our Music Hall Producer’s group. Please ask your server for our brochure. Or you may call Laura S. Raisch, Director of Donor Development and Special Events at 313.887.8553

Music Hall is a 501(c)(3) non-profit corporation. Approximately one half of your contribution will be tax deductible.
